

2012
MY VOICE COUNTS
HUMAN RIGHTS DAY

IN RECOGNITION OF INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS
DAY THE 2012 CHATTANOOGA TRUTH COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS WILL BE HELD ON MONDAY DECEMBER 10TH 5:30 – 8:00 PM
PUBLIC LIBRARY AUDITORIUM, 1001 BROAD STREET

BUS ROUTES: St. Elmo & East Lake - get off in front of the library at 11th and Broad. Alton Park, East Chattanooga, Northgate, Rossville & Golden Gateway - get off near 10th and Market, walk one block east to the library at 10th and Broad.

International Human Rights Day is a globally observed celebration marking the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights by the United Nations General Assembly on 10 December 1948. In honor of International Human Rights Day, several local organizations and community leaders are organizing The 2012 Chattanooga Truth Commission on Human Rights. Truth Commissions are designed to expose the truth about systemic human rights violations and injustice that powerful forces would rather keep hidden. Truth Commissions provide a forum in which masses of poor people who are normally ignored, silenced, and made invisible can speak out and be seen and heard. The event begins with a community meal and fellowship at 5:30 – this event is free and open to the public.

The Truth Commission in partnership with the Chattanooga Area Food Bank, is pleased to offer mobile enrollment in SNAP (food stamps) benefits on site at the event. Childcare is also provided. If you require assistance to fully participate in this event please call 667-1967.

Questions about transportation assistance, call Felicia: (423) 362-0721

For more information please visit: <http://2012truthcommission.wordpress.com/>